they do not cause brain damage and often tend to run in families it occurs when the flow of blood to the penis is inhibited